Delegates to the Pittsburg Republican Convention.

A Convention of the Republican members of the Legislature, in connection with the Republican State Committee, has selected the following named gentlemen as delegates to the Pittsburg Convention of the 22d inst. which is to take measures for a general Republican organization, and preparatory to a nominating Convention of candidates for President and Vice President:

Delegate at Large—Hon. Anson P. Morrill, Hon. Edward Kent, Hon. Noah Smith, Hon. Ezra H. French.

First Congressional District.—D. E. Somes, of Biddeford, Charles Hill of Saco.

Second District.—Hon. H. H. Boody of Brunswick, H. G. Rust of Paris.

Third District.—Nehemiah Abbott, Belfast; Joseph Clark, Waldoboro'.

Fourth District.—Hon. Abner Coburn, Bloomfield, Hon. Marshall S. Hager, Richmond.

Fifth District.—George M. Weston, Bangor, E. W. Norris, Skowhegan.

Sixth District.—F. A. Pike, Calais; Andrew Peters, Ellsworth.

This list (as the Portland Advertiser justly remarks) is an excellent one—embracing as it does some of the best and wisest men of the State. They well represent the largest and patriotic mass of the people who last fall threw the largest vote ever given by any party in Maine; and as the recipient of that unexampled vote, Gov. Morrill is well placed at the head of the delegation which is to consult with Republicans from all parts of the Union for the advancement of the cause of free republican principles. Nor less fitting is the prominent position given to the name of Edward Kent. He is the noble Whig whose election as Governor led the way to the triumph of Harrison in 1840, and who has ever been identified with sound principles and the cause of the people.

The Puppies Yelping at Mr. Washburn.

We perceive that several of the hunker papers of the State are copying from the Cincinnati Daily Times a scurrilous lampoon upon the representative in Congress from this District, which the Bangor Journal, with contemptible meanness, pronounces "complete and true to nature." The article has accidentally escaped our notice until now.

The following is a specimen of this blackguardism which the Journal is shameless and impudent enough to endorse before the people of Penobscot.

An ostentatious speecher became the fashion, little Mr. Washburn of Maine, like a popper moved by concealed wires, popped up, and looking very fierce, as if unconscious little man he wont to look, said he had a question to ask Mr. Fuller, the National American candidate for Speaker. Mr. Washburn is a small boy but he makes great lemonade, as the ancient Quaker gentleman remarked to a juvenile compounder of punch. Mr. Washburn is a little man with a moderate head, thick glossy hair, a big nose and a wide mouth. He has, also, imperfect eyes, and therefore wears spectacles, which perched upon the before-mentioned nose, impart to his countenance a very curious expression, being the ludicrous and ferocious combined.

He has mania for verbose debate which cannot be excelled. Since the House was called to order, there has scarcely been a motion, a debate, a question of order, or a point of dispute brought before the House, upon which the little man from Maine has not expressed his opinion. He is a specimen of what one-half the Republican Representatives—shallow, noisy, conceited, self-admirers men as they are.

If Mr. Washburn is not a giant in physical stature, he possesses a weight of intellect, a fund of information, and a ready eloquence surpassed by that of very few public men, from any section of the Union—and this the doughfaces in Congress and at home have found out to their cost. Hence, malicious blackguardism like the above, is the only weapon with which they care to meet him. The people of the Fifth Congressional District know and love Israel Washburn—and he stands higher in their affections, for great abilities and honorable character, we may well say, than any other member of Congress from this section of the country has ever stood.

He is also considered in Washington as one of the leading men in Congress—and no one is listened to with more respect, nor as a member whose views and arguments carry with them greater weight, or produce a more decided impression upon the House. The editor of the Bangor Journal well knows, and in former times was wont to affirm with readiness. His lampooning of Mr. Washburn's personal appearance, and depreciation of his abilities appears, therefore, the more pitiful and malicious. It is the method in which a small politician turns upon an honorable opponent.

As to the unthemus personage who describes Mr. Washburn in the Cincinnati Times as a "seedy second-rate man," he is merely a flippant, toad-eating letter-writer for the Twelfth Section Know Nothings, who have cut so miserable a figure by their demonstration for Pennsylvania Fuller—a northern dough-face who, although he has eaten more Southern dirt this winter than any Southerner of them all, was, nevertheless, fully endorsed by the Bangor Journal.

HYPERBOREAN.—The New York Journal of Commerce says that, on the 8th, the rare feat was performed, of crossing the North River on the ice, from Jersey City to New York.

During the day, persons passed without difficulty from Williamsburg to the Navy Yard, across Wallabout Bay. The ferry boats, of course, made very irregular trips, and only at long intervals. Some of the ice was so crowded together and piled up as to be fully four feet thick.

THE FIRES IN THE MONTH OF JANUARY were very destructive. Thirty-nine are reported, in each of which the loss exceeded $10,000; sixteen of which destroyed manufacturing properties. The total loss amounted to $1,404,000.—The largest fires occurred at Middletown Conn., Syracuse, N. Y., Charleston S. C., Cincinnati, Auburn, Utica, Buffalo and Lowell.

On the 3d of January last, 6 schooners left New York for Philadelphia, but has not yet reached that city, having been frozen up between the two places.

The Poor Whites of the South.

[Concluded.]

The following statistics from the Census of 1850 show the number of whites (excluding foreign-born) in certain States, and the number of white persons, (excluding foreign-born, in such States, over twenty years of age unable to read and write:

| States. | Whites. | Unable to read and write. |
|---|---|---|
| New England States | 2,239,651 | 6,209 |
| New York | 2,396,101 | 23,240 |
| Alabama | 352,018 | 33,618 |
| Arkansas | 159,721 | 16,192 |
| Kentucky | 760,012 | 64,340 |
| Missouri | 506,434 | 34,420 |
| Virginia | 894,847 | 76,868 |
| North Carolina | 553,463 | 73,228 |
| South Carolina | 384,955 | 15,580 |
| Georgia | 595,120 | 40,294 |
| Tennessee | 761,195 | 77,017 |

The evils which afflict the Slave States are various and complicated; but they all originate with, or are aggravated by, that fatal institution which Washington, Jefferson, Patrick Henry, and all the great men of the South of the Revolutionary epoch deplored, but which the madness of modern times hugs as a blessing.

* * * * * * *

In the first settlement of the new and rich soils of the South-west these evils were less apparent; but the downward progress is rapid and certain. First the former without slaves, and then the small planter, succumbs to the conquering desolation. How feelingly it is depicted in the following extract from an address delivered a few weeks since by the Hon. C. C. Clay, jr., of Alabama:

"I can show you, with sorrow, in the older portions of Alabama, and in my native County of Madison, the sad memorials of the artless and unassuming culture of cotton. Our small planters, after taking the cream off their lands, unable to restore them by rest, manures, or otherwise, are going further West and South, in search of other virgin lands, which they may and will despoil and impoverish in like manner. Our wealthier planters, (with greater means and more skill), are investing out their poorer neighbor, extending their plantations, and adding to their slave force. The wealthy few, who are able to live on smaller profits and to give their blasted fields some rest, are thus pushing out the many who are merely independent. Of the $20,000,000 annually realized from the sales of the cotton crop of Alabama, nearly all not expended in supporting the producers is reinvested in land and negroes. Thus the white population has decreased and the slave increased almost one-fourth in seven counties of our State. In 1852 Madison County had about 3,000 voters—now she cannot exceed 2,200. In traversing that county, one will discover numerous farm-houses, once the abode of industrious and intelligent freemen, now occupied by negroes, or tenantless, deserted and dilapidated; he will observe fields, once fertile, now enfeebled, abandoned and covered with those evil harbingers, foxtail and broomsedge; he will see the moss growing on the mouldering walls of deserted villages, and will hear one cotton master grasping the whole domain' that once furnished happy homes for a dozen white families.—Indeed, a country in its infancy, where fifty years ago scarce a forest tree had been felled by the axe of the pioneer, is already exhibiting the painful signs of senility and decay, apparent in Virginia and the Carolinas."

It is undoubtedly true that the condition of the South would be vastly ameliorated if its pursuits were more diversified, if its great facilities for mining and manufacturing were improved, and if its wasteful systems of agriculture were changed. The profits of capital would be raised, and the productiveness of labor would be enhanced. To a certain extent, perhaps, the free laborer might be benefited by the greater employment and higher wages which would result; but the same fatal, ever shadowing evil which has driven him from the field, would drive him from the workshop and the factory. Here in labor lethalis arundo—Even Mr. Gregg, from whom, I have quoted above, says that "all owners, who have experience, prefer the smaller, give the decided preference to black as operatives." Mr. Montgomery, in his treatise on the "Cotton Manufacture of the United States Compared with Great Britain," states that "there are several cotton factories in Tennessee operated entirely by slave labor, there not being a white man in the mill but the superintendent." The employ of slaves is common every where at the South, in factories and mining. The author of "The future of the South" (the Bow's Review, vol. iv. page 146) says that "the black arms are equally serviceable in factories as in fields."

A writer in The Mississippian says:

"Will not our slaves make tanners? And can they not when supplied with materials, make pegs and other shoes? Cannot our slaves make plows and harrows, &c. The New England States cannot make and sell as brick and framed houses, and therefore we should learned that our slaves can make and lay brick and perform the work of house joiners and carpenters. In fact we know that in mechanical pursuits and manufacturing cotton and woolen goods they are fine laborers."

The statesman like Gov. Hammond, looking at the matter from a statesman's point of view, may recommend as he does, the employment of poor whites in factories, as being upon the whole, although immediately less cheap, more for the general good of the community. Men are not governed in matters of business by any such consideration as this. If slave labor is adapted to factories (as it would seem to be), and is cheaper than white labor, as it would also seem to be; it will be employed, be the consequences to the community ever so disastrous. And where it is employed at all, it will be employed exclusively, as in the Tennessee factories, from the insupportable repugnance of whites to labor side by side and on an equality with black slaves.

The difficulty in the case is invincible. The property-holders of the South own a vigorous and serviceable body of black laborers, who can be fed at $20 per annum, and clothed for $10 per annum, while each is kept industrious and preserved from debilitating vices of every description, by no means inapt to the simpler arts naturally docile, and, under fair tolerable treatment, "fat and sleek" and in the terrible, the overwhelming, the irresistible competition, by which the non-property-holding three quarters of the whites of the South are subjected, when they come into the market with their labor.

It is not wonderful that they seek escape from the nightmare which broods over them, and fly by thousands to the refuge of the Free States. The census of 1850 found 699,37 persons living in the Free States who were born in the Slave States, while only 208,632 persons born in the Free States were living in the Slave States.

Of the persons who have emigration from the border slave States, and who were living in other States in 1850, the following table will show the numbers living in free and slave States respectively:

| Emigrated from | Living in free States. | Living in slave States. |
|---|---|---|
| Delaware | 26,182 | 6,799 |
| Maryland | 36,004 | 41,627 |
| Virginia | 182,424 | 304,961 |
| Kentucky | 148,280 | 107,344 |
| Missouri | 20,244 | 14,682 |
| Total | 462,534 | 376,853 |

From 838,387, the entire number of emigrants from those States, we deduct one fourth part, assumed to be holders of slaves, and there remain 628,790 as the number of emigrants not holders of slaves, and therefore at liberty to select their residence in free or slave States, as they might think best. Of this number 462,534 or a fraction above or seventy-four per cent. selected the free States.

Of the persons who have emigrated from the border Free States, and who were living in 1850, the following table will show the numbers living in Free and Slave States respectively:

| Emigrated from | Living in free States | Living in slave States |
|---|---|---|
| New Jersey | 114,611 | 18,418 |
| Pennsylvania | 366,317 | 53,369 |
| Ohio | 269,988 | 28,770 |
| Indiana | 66,141 | 24,780 |
| Illinois | 22,707 | 20,658 |
| Iowa | 3,357 | 1,758 |
| Total | 832,971 | 152,644 |

The following shows the number of persons living in 1850 in Illinois, Indiana and Missouri, who emigrated from the Slave-States, excluding the border States, and excluding Arkansas, which is adjacent to Missouri:

| Emigrated to Illinois and Indiana | Emigrated to Missouri |
|---|---|

There is an emigration involving considerable numbers, and not controlled by the consideration of immediate proximity. It is an emigration to States very similar in local position and physical characteristics. Such differences as do exist, however, in climate and productions, would incline the Southern emigrants to Missouri. Yet we find three fifths of these emigrants placing themselves voluntarily under the operation of the Ordinance of 1787. It is fair inference and it is true, that the rest wished as well as real interests of a majority of the citizens of the South are in opposition to the extension of Slavery; but it is only the minority of fully holders, which is represented in Congress which has otherwise any political weight in the country.

It is unquestionable that the immigration from the South has brought into the Free States more ignorance, poverty and thriftlessness than a equal amount of the immigration from Europe. Where it forms a marked feature of the population, as in Southern Illinois, a long time must elapse before it is brought up to the general standard of intelligence and enterprise in the Free States. This remark is made in no spirit of unkindness. The whites of the South are nearly all of the Revolutionary stock.—They are a fine, manly race. Their valor, attested upon a hundred battle-fields, shone out unrivalled in the still resplendent in the last contest of the republic. No banner floated more gloriously amid the smoke and fire of the Valley of Mexico, than that up-borne by the indomitable gallantry of the sons of South Carolina. I feel for that unhappy people all the ties of kith and kin. God forbid that any calamity should be closed, by which they may escape out of the horrible pit of their bondage! If the Constitution permits the South to recapture their fugitive blacks, happily it does not permit them to recapture their fugitive whites.

It is said that no equal number of negroes were ever so well off, upon the whole, as the slaves of the South, and that an contrast with their native barbarism, their present lot, hard as it is, is one of improvement and comparative advancement. Even if this be true; even if three millions and a half of people of African blood have been raised in the scale of civilization; the price paid for it is too costly. An equal number of people of the Caucasian stock have been deprived of all that constitutes civilization, and thrust down into barbarism, thus reversing the order of Providence, and sacrificing the superior to the inferior.

It is said that an extension of the area of Slavery would add to the personal comfort of the slaves, or lead for a considerable period of time. Even if this be so, our first and highest duty is to our own race, and it will be a most flagrant and inexcusable folly to permit such a scourge of it as we now witness in the South-ern States, to be enacted over again upon the vast areas of the West. Where the two races actually coexist, the relation which may best at last between them may afford for matter for dispute; but it is against the clear and manifest dictates of common sense, voluntarily, willingly and with our eyes open, to subject the white man to a companionship which, under any relation, is an incumbrance and a curse.

It is for the intelligent self-interest, the Christian philanthropy of the people of this great country, with all the lights of the past and present blazing with such effulgent brightness that none but the judicially blind can fail to see, to determine whether the system of black Slavery shall inflict upon regions now free and virgin from the hands of the Creator, its fearful load of woe; which no man numbers, which no eloquence can exaggerate, and of which no invective can heighten the hideous reality. It is for the people of this great country to determine whether the further spread of a system, of which the worst fruits are not seen in wasted resources and in impoverished fields, but in a neglected and outcast people, shall be left to the accidents of latitude, of proximity, of border violence, or of the doubtful assent of embryo communities; or whether, on the other hand, it shall be stayed by an interdiction, as universal as the superiority of Good to Evil, as perpetual as the rightful authority of reason in the affairs of men, and as resistless as the embodied will of the nation.

GEO. M. WESTON.

Feb. , 1856.

A FAST PARISIENNE. We have had a trial the week which lets the light upon a portion of Parisian life, which is not the least curious in its mysteries. A beautiful, aristocratic woman, not yet twenty-three years old, was charged with having cheated twenty tradespeople, milliners, jewelers, &c., of $40,000 in two years! Her greatest dupe was one Frush, a hotel-keeper of the Place Vendome, who lost $15,000 money lent! She was one of the peaches of the demi-monde—one of those mercenary beauties who live young, like princesses, and die old, of hunger, thirst and cold. The trial showed what heroics prey upon these poor creatures. It is no wonder they grow vampires. Think of charging mustard $6 a pot, [it costs 20 cents,] champagne $4 a bottle, [it costs 40 cents,] and claret $2, [it costs 12 cents,] a bottle, of bill of $2400 for meals for a month's time! Another of the demi-monde personæ was an agent d'affaires who got her out of Clichy by paying 70-00f. and lent her 9000f. and paid several of her pressing debts. He lost $5200 by her; judge what his profits are, [for these fellows grow rich rapidly,] when the demi-monde pays, as it generally does. It appeared in the course of the trial that a German banker, his name was not given, allows her annually $2500,—This was not enough for her; she had other purses at her service, from which she liberally, and spoke of $20,000 a year besides!—Paris Correspondence of the New Orleans Picayune.

A STRANGE DEATH. A melancholy and somewhat curious case of death by suffocation came to light yesterday. As a mason was employed in repairing a chimney that failed to draw well at No. 140 Cherry street, he discovered the body of a man closely wedged in the flue. The Coroner was instantly summoned, and upon holding an inquest upon the body of the deceased, it was shown that the corpse was that of a man named Louis Miller, who had been missed since New Year's Day. The deceased, it appeared, got down into the chimney from the roof, while laboring under a fit of temporary insanity, and there perished, unknown to all the world. Miller was an assistant of the house, and was a man of very dissipated habits. The body was somewhat blackened and scorched, but was, nevertheless, in a good state of preservation, owing to the several cold spells of weather since the date of the accident. The corpse was found perfectly upright in the flue and was frozen as solid as a piece of oak.—New York Herald, 7th.

ARRIVAL OF THE

PERSIA

AT NEW YORK.

THE NEWS FAVORABLE TO PEACE.

The new Cunard steamship Persia arrived at New York, Feb. 9th, which sailed from Liverpool in the 26th ult. She brings dates to the 27th ult. Her news is brought by the Boston papers of Friday and Chronicle of Saturday.

The steamship Belgique came into Portland on Saturday, having passed the Persia off the Highlands, and at 4 P. M. was 70 miles east of Sandy Hook. She reports the passengers and crew of the Persia all well. The steamer Canada, bound to Liverpool, passed the Persia on Saturday, having been detained by the ice in the Delaware and Raritan Canal, and other boilers burst out. The Persia arrived at Southampton on the 25th ult.

Messrs. Kelly and Gilmore, the Americans who sailed.

Peace Prospects.

The chances in favor of a speedy peace are on the increase. Russia now positively declares that she is willing to submit to the four questions of the Conference, and Austria is also said to have given her assent to the same. The Czar has ordered his army to cease hostilities without waiting for the formal adhesion of the Allies, although it is rumored that an armistice is agreed on for three months.

France, England and Austria are said to be in accord, although it is feared that great difficulties may arise during the negotiations.

No place of meeting has yet been decided upon. A despatch to day from Berlin states that the Conference will certainly be held at Paris or London, also that Baron Brunow will be the Russian plenipotentiary, having had instructions from the Czar to that effect.

The Times' Vienna correspondent states that the armistice, although it is rumored to have been agreed on for three months, will probably not exceed in length a month.

The steamship Belgique carries $700,000 in specie.

Later from London.

The London Saturday Daily News learns no doubt whatever that the preliminaries of peace will be signed probably on the Tuesday following, certainly before the meeting of Parliament.

An armistice will be concluded immediately after signing the preliminaries, and lengthy negotiations with a view to a comprehensive treaty will be commenced immediately.

It further learns that it is the determination of the allied powers to exercise to the full extent the rights reserved to them by the 63d Article of the Austrian proposals, to bring forward additional stipulations that may secure the general peace of Europe.

A despatch from Berlin states that the Austrian Proposals were strongly supported by Count Buol Schauenburg by Holland.

The Daily News says that the feeling of the English people on the day following the receipt of the despatches from Paris was one of unfeigned satisfaction.

The chief depression in the funds is attributed to the continued sales on government account, the sale of the Bank of England having made large advances to the government necessary, and drawn notes issued in payment of dividends, thus causing confidence in French affairs to extend to the English funds.

Liverpool Markets.

BREADSTUFFS.—Flour, low grades western 40s; Ohio, 42s. Wheat, rather unsettled and declining, at 10s 10d and 11s 3d for red, and 11s 9d a 12s 6d for white. Indian Corn, old lower, mixed 34s 6d a 35s 6d, white nominally 42s.

PROVISIONS.—Quiet with but little change. Lard dull and nominal at 66s.

SECOND DESPATCH.

Peace Negotiations.

London, Friday.—The Vienna Presse correspondent writes, that private letters from Petersburg, dated 17th inst., state that the Czar has declared formally that the Austrian propositions were to be the basis of the peace negotiations, and for the present may be considered as true preliminaries of peace.

Among the important points of the Austrian proposals was regarded as individual and unconditional acceptance of the proposition proclaimed considerable hesitation, but that cap with the exception of the other two. This was soon turn of public ideas was generally received, not merely by the aristocracy, but also by the classes of the people. The popular fanaticism had been roused to such a pitch after the battle of Sebastopol, that a peaceful settlement was a work of difficulty to make them accept. Practical arrangements as necessary considerably Europe.

The public mind was greatly agitated, and an outbreak would not be surprising.

The Times' Vienna correspondent states that on the 21st inst., had the most strenuous ef

ARRIVAL OF THE

PERSIA.

AT NEW YORK

THE NEWS FAVORABLE TO PEACE.

NEW YORK, Feb 9

The new-Cunard steamship Persia which sailed from Liverpool on the 26th ult, arrived at her dock this morning at 10 o'clock She brings London papers of Friday and telegraph despatches of Saturday

The steamship Belgian came near foundering at sea having sprung a leak 700 miles west of the Hebrides and kept only by the united exertions of the passengers and crew she was kept afloat until reaching Southampton when it was found she had four to six feet of water in her hold and one of her boilers burnt out

The Asia arrived at Southampton at midnight on the 25th ult

Messrs Baillie and Gilmore of Manchester had failed

Peace Prospects.

The change in favor of a speedy pacification is on the increase Russian sincerity is as much the best ground as on former occasions, but appearances are all fair and straight forward

The Czar has ordered his army in the Crimea to make no hostile attempt without waiting for a formal armistice although it is rumored that an armistice is agreed on for three months

France England and Austria continue in accord although it is foreseen that grave questions must arise during the negotiations

No place of meeting has yet been decided on—the despatch to day of doubtful authority says the congress will certainly be either at Paris or London also that Baron Brunow will be the Russian plenipotentiary

It will be the 2d February at least before all preliminary signatures are appended to the agreement

Letter from London.

The London Saturday Daily News learns on unquestioned authority that the preliminaries to a treaty will be signed probably before Tuesday, and a definitive before the meeting of Parliament

Hostilities will be concluded immediately after signing the preliminaries, and negotiations with a view to a comprehensive treaty will become opened immediately

It further learns that it is the determination of the allied powers to exercise to the full extent the rights reserved to them by the 5th Article of the Austrian proposals to bring forward additional demands that may be for the general interests of Europe

A despatch from Berlin states that the Peace proposals were strongly supported at St Petersburg by Holland

The Daily News thinks the article says the funds today even on an unfavorable reaction of 1 2 per cent but a partial relapse is not surprising—a brief depressing influence appears to be the result of sales on government accounts the bank rate and having made large advances to the government at sells stock for the latter and thus facilitates issues in payment of dividends, owing to the demand for money against these sales

There is next to no business on the Turkish loan

Liverpool Markets.

Liverpool Tuesday—Flour low grades western canal Ohio 40s Wheat, rather improved demand red 11s 1d and 11s 3d for red 11s 9d a 12s for white Indian corn 6d lower mixed and yellow old white nominally 43a

Pork quiet with but little change Lard dull at nominal at 55s.

SECOND DESPATCH.

Peace Negotiations.

London Friday—The Times Paris correspondent writes that private letters from St Petersburg, dated 17th inst, state that the Czar has declared formally that the Austrian propositions were to be the basis of ulterior pacific negotiations and for the present may be considered as true preliminaries of peace

Among the diplomatic body and the court, the war was regarded as inevitable, and the unanimous acceptance of the proposition had produced considerable sensation in that capital, with the exception of the officials Thus suddenly the return of pacific ideas was generally badly received, not merely by the old Muscovite party, but also by the mass of the people The popular fanaticism had been roused to such a pitch that the fall of Sebastopol, that at present it is a work of difficulty to make them accept a portion of it strengements necessary or desirable for Europe

The public mind was greatly agitated, and an outbreak would not be surprising

The Times Vienna correspondent states, on the assertion that the most strenuous efforts are now being made to induce England not to insist on Russia's assuming the Eastern coast of the Black Sea.

In diplomatic circles, complaints are made of the inconceivable obstinacy of Sir Hamilton Seymour in this matter It may therefore be considered that he does not consider it advisable that Great Britain should obey the behests of Austria which will largely partake of the character without having shared one of the dangers Russia was

The Paris correspondent writes on the evening of Thursday, that the Vienna journals and the news from St Petersburg, that orders had been sent to the Crimea to suspend hostilities

The Post's Paris correspondent says—"That in all probability Paris will be fixed upon for the Congress as the Emperor would be so near at hand and Lord Palmerston could attend personally, thus exerting confidence in France and England

Prussia was never better prepared for war, or more determined not to suspend hostilities until the objects of the struggles are fully ensured, the utmost accord continues between the cabinets of London and Paris.

Paris, Friday—It was asserted that the French Government had proposed London as the seat of the conferences, but that the English cabinet preferred that they should be held at Paris, and that Russia has adopted Baron Brunnow on her plenipotentiary having been ascertained that the selection met with no objection on the part of France and England

The Vienna correspondent of the Times states that in that capital the most strenuous efforts are making to induce England not to insist on the disarming of the Russian fortresses on the Eastern shores of the Black Sea

It is feared that the British Government will not consent to sign the preliminaries of Peace until perfectly clear interpretation has been given to the 5th proposition

The journal Des Debats publishes a letter from Berlin, dated 21th inst, which states that in a Cabinet Council held that day, at which the King presided, it was decided that Prussia should take no initiative in the peace conferences, and should make no concessions susceptible of changing her actual positions

The acceptance of the Austrian propositions has been published officially at St Petersburg. The announcement states that the chief condition is the neutralization of the Black Sea, to be secured by a treaty between Russia and Turkey, Russia being ready to discuss the other points.

It is stated in Diplomatic circles, that Austria considers the wording of the proposition entitles Russia to maintain all existing fortresses on the Black Sea. Further, it is rumored, that the Allies intend to maintain an army of occupation in Turkey till the reforms in favor of the Christians are firmly established. This proposal is extremely distrustful both to Turkey and Russia, and Austria proposes to maintain her army in the Danubian principalities so long as the French and English occupy Turkey.

It was stated and afterwards contradicted that Marshall Pelissier, General Codrington and Omar Pasha had, like Gen Gorischakoff, received orders from their respective Governments, to stop hostilities Such orders will not be sent till an armistice be nominally concluded It is hoped that such armistice may be signed on or about the 2d February

The Globe, the Palmerston organ, of Friday evening, January 25th, announces in a leading article that the warlike preparations of the Government are proceeding, as if no pacific intimation had been received within the last few hours It says a requisition had been sent for transport accommodation for 4000 horses, for nearly 60,000 tons of shipping Lord Palmerston while meeting cordially the advances of peace, will carefully provide for a possible failure in diplomacy

Affairs in the Crimea.

Accounts from the Crimea to the 6th of January mention no fact of the least importance. The cold was intense, and the sea had frozen along the coast, but particularly in the ports of Kertsch and Balaclava, and in the roadstead of Sebastopol The ice, however, soon disappeared The men who suffered most were the porters, and laborers recently arrived and not yet inured to the climate

The cannonade from the north forts continued uninterruptedly It is remarked that recently the Russians have fired large shells into Sebastopol, whereas they formerly threw only bombs, hence it is inferred that they have received fresh supplies of material Their fire on the city does not do much damage, but is directed with a sagacity that shows that they have accurate information of all the movements in the allied camp

Kertsch letters of Dec 29th, mention that although locked in by the ice the garrisons of Kertsch and Yenikale want for nothing Fuel was the only article at all scarce

A deep mine had been dug and a parapet 12 feet high raised around the town of Kertsch, and the defences of St Paul's and Yenikale, within which the troops are huttedd

A rumor had reached the camp, that Gen Wrangle had been reinforced at Arabat, and meditated an attack across the ice

All the officers of the Anglo Turkish contingent had ordered to quit Constantinople and join their corps at Kertsch

Advices are received from Liberia to Dec 18 The natives were giving trouble to both the American and English settlements

A serious disturbance had occurred at Sinoe between the natives and the English authorities. Several native towns had been burnt by the English

President Roberts, with the British Consul Newhann, left Monrovia on the 28th of Nov, and arrived at Sinoe on the 27th, when they went on shore and found that several of the Liberia people had been murdered. The President and Consul returned the following day to Monrovia with several European madmen in the Teazer, and a volunteer corps was being raised to despatch to Sinoe by the American schooner George An attack was also expected on Cape Mount

Constantinople letters of January 10, state that Gen Mouravieff, after having destroyed the advanced works of Kars had left in the place 4000 garrison about 1000 men well provisioned, and had gone towards Gumri with the bulk of his army

Italy.

The Times Turen correspondent writing on the 20th, says that the official Gazettes of Vienna and Milan are by no means inclined to place much faith in peace resulting immediately from the acceptance by Russia of the Austrian propositions

The same correspondent states that since the ratification of the Austrian concordat the Tuscan clergy have assumed great pretensions and everything tends to indicate a similar convention between Tuscany and Rome before long

The East.

We have received the following by the Thistle, which arrived at Marseilles on Thursday

Conferences had been held at Constantinople to adjust the first and fourth points relating to the Principalities

The firing continues on both sides at Sebastopol. The allies had blown up two of the docks. The Russians had taken up winter quarters at Simpherophol and Bakschi Serai

At Kinburn they had 30,000 men between Perekop and Orchakoff, and fears were entertained of an attack on the fortress. The garrison had been reinforced The flotilla was to pass in, but would aid the defence

Gen Vivian, fearing an attack on Kertsch, has called for officers and artillery from Constantinople

Mr Murray had given an ultimatum He left an agent at Theran in spite of some resistance, and threatened to support him by an English fleet in the Gulf of Persia.

Britain.

The Globe says that Parliament will be opened by Her Majesty in person. The address in the Lords will be moved by the Earl of Gleford and seconded by the Earl of Abingdon

Deptford, Jan 22 This morning the American bark Independence, Marshall, of Bath, Me., was wrecked on the Strand near Bertytown, north of the Nanny river. She was rethroning on her first trip to New Orleans from Liverpool She was 1300 tons register She struck on the Strand about 4 o clock, A M A brisk breeze blowing inward at the time and continued during the day About an hour afterwards one of the Dreghers steamers coming from Liverpool opportunely arrived and saved all the hands, and landed them at the Dreghedda buay. The wreck at present lies on the Banks, and the wind continuing as described there is every probability of her being broken up.

Dublin, Jan 21 The Horizon, of Kennebunk, Me., struck on Arklow Bank, the 18th inst Ship and cargo total loss Captain and crew saved The Horizon, Storer, sailed from Liverpool for New Orleans on the 7th inst.

Sailing of the Star of the West.

New York, Feb 9

The steamship Star of the West sailed this afternoon for Nicaragua, with about 700 passengers, the great bulk of whom, it is asserted, will join the Walker party The U S Marshall and Deputies went aboard the steamer just before her departure, but no arrests were made Among the passengers were Messrs. Morrison, Lester and Male, who were arrested at the time the Northern Light was detained

Fears for the safety of the Pacific.

Strong apprehensions are felt that some disaster has happened to the steamer Pacific, which left Liverpool on the 23d Jan. Her agents have decided to despatch a steamer in search of her.

Kansas Affairs in the Ohio Legislature.

The Kansas call for aid was presented by Gov Chase to the Ohio Legislature, on the 6th instant, accompanied by a message referring in strong terms to the repeal of the Missouri compromise and to the disturbances growing out of the repeal It was ordered to be printed, and was also a series of resolutions offered by Mr Caldwell, calling on Congress to interfere in behalf of Kansas.

Kansas Affairs in the New York Legislature.

ALBANY, Jan 9

Gov Clark sent us the following communication to the Legislature:

Lawrence City, Kansas, Jan 21

To His Excellency, Gov Clark:

Sir: We have authentic information that an overwhelming force of the citizens of Missouri are organizing upon our border, amply supplied with artillery, for the avowed purpose of invading our Territory, demolishing our towns, and butchering our free-state citizens. We hope to be able to hold out until assistance can reach us. We respectfully request, on behalf of the citizens of Kansas, that such steps may be taken by the people of the States as humanity suggests, to prevent the successful carrying out of so inhuman an outrage,

J. H. Hank, Chairman Ex. Com. of Kansas
C. Robinson, Governor elect of Kansas.

The reading of the document created much excitement in the House.

Mr. Snodegrass made a motion to refer the communication to a special committee

Mr Scott asked who Gov Robinson was. He thought quite another person was Governor of the Territory.

Mr. Duganne favored a reference to a special committee

Debate is going on.

Progress of Northern Institutions—A Happy Omen.—By a singular coincidence it happened that the same day that we received the intelligence of the success of Banks in Congress, we learned that the Mississippi was frozen over down to a point for the first time within the memory of living men!

Both events furnish gratifying evidence that the power of the North is beginning to be felt where it has hitherto been defied We hail the omen

And as the unusual cold, which has locked up the commerce of the Mississippi, is recognized as the safest guaranty against a coming summer of epidemics and affliction, so the triumph of the North in Congress furnishes a corresponding security against for greater calamities to the whole country, which seemed to be impending.—Free Press

An old lady named Elizabeth Farmer, living in Newton N. H., who has been widely known for her parsimonious habits, died week before last, leaving from seventy-five to a hundred thousand dollars worth of property, to be divided among her nearest relatives—embracing some fifteen or twenty cousins Most of the property consists in very heavy timber lands, some railroad stock, and a large accumulation of gold and silver coin, found snugly stowed away in an old chest

Justice E M Kelleg of Kent, Ct., one day last week was turned out feathered and ridden on a rail, at mid-day, by the friends of free liquor, for having executed the law on a rumseller. Who will now call Connecticut the land of steady habits?

Mr. Buchanan, in a letter to a friend says, on his suppose resuming London, he intends to set out on a two months trip on the Continent of Europe.

Brig Rowland of Thomaston, loaded with stone, was boarded at sea, 26th inst. by ship Enterpe, and found to be abandoned and in a sinking condition The boys were taken off and the deck had taken fire from a fire left in the cabin stove

Congress.—In the House of Representatives, the Speaker has been authorized to appoint the committee Much interest is necessarily felt in all political circles as to the construction of the important committees, and especially of those which relate to the sectional difficulties which are likely to arise The Committee on Elections, Territories and the district of Columbia are most regarded, while that on the Judiciary has assumed a higher degree of political importance than formerly from the probation likely to be given by the presentation of a state constitution from Kansas. It is said that Mr. Campbell of Ohio can have the chairmanship of the Committee on Ways and Means if he desires the place.

MEDICAL DISCOVERY

The Greatest of the Age!

DR. KENNEDY of Roxbury, has discovered a remedy that cures EVERY KIND OF HUMOR, from the worst blotch down to a common pimple. He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two. He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

Two bottles are warranted to cure a burning sore mouth

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two to three bottles will drive the poison of boils.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the mouth and stomach.

Three to five bottles are warranted to cure the worst cases of erysipelas.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humors in the skin.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running in the ears and blotches in the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure coughing and coming moons.

One bottle will cure scaly eruptions of the skin.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ring worm.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate cases of rheumatism.

Three to six bottles are warranted to cure salt rheum.

Five to eight bottles will cure the very worst case of Scrofula.

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure warranted when the above quantity is taken.

Nothing looks so irresistible to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the day as, that a dandelion weed, growing upon the pastures, and along old stone walls, should cure every humor in the system, yet it is now a fixed fact. If you have a humor it has to start. There are no ifs nor ands, or put it, nothing somewhat but not yours. He has peddled over a thousand bottles of it in the vicinity of Boston, and knows the effects of it in every case. It has already done some of the greatest cures ever done in Massachusetts. He gave it to children a year old, to old people of sixty and has seen puny looking children, whose flesh was soft and flabby, restored to a perfect state of health by one bottle.

To those who are subject to sick headache, one bottle will always cure it. It gives great relief to catarrh and dizziness. Some who have taken it have been costive for years and have been regulated by it. With it the body is bound it works quite easy, but where there is any derangement of the functions of digestion it will cause very angular feelings, but you must not be alarmed—they will very soon disappear and from four days to a week. There is never a bad result from it—on the contrary when that feeding is gone, you will feel yourself like a new person. I heard some of the most extravagant encomiums of it that ever mortal listened to.

No change of diet ever necessary. Eat the best you can get and enough of it.

ROXBURY, Sept. 19, 1853

The proprietor, in calling the attention of the public to this preparation, does so with a feeling of the utmost confidence in its virtues and adaptation to the diseases for which it is recommended.

It is now and has been for years that it has stood the test of ten years trial before the American people, and its reputation and sale is unparalled by any similar preparation extant. The testimony in its favor given by the most prominent and well known Physicians, in all parts of the country is conclusive, and individuals, in every section of the country, are daily coming from your own State to Philadelphia, respectfully submitted, but one that has referring any who may still doubt, to my "Medical Book for Farmers and Families," to be had gratis of all the Agents for the German Bitters.

TESTIMONY FROM MAINE.

Capt. Daniel Abbot, Brunswick, Me., July 16, 1855, says: I was taken sick, last April, upon my passage from Havana to Charleston, S.C., and at the latter place procured a physician, but for ten days could obtain no relief, no sleep or appetite. At last taking up a newspaper having a "Hoofland's German Bitters" advertisement of it, I sent for some immediately. The effect was so good appetite for supper, and rested well that night, and the next day found myself a well man—I have not been without your Bitters since, having now gotten better in Havana, Charleston, and the West India Islands ever since. I have now given up going to sea, and reside in this place, where you should have an agency, as you could sell large quantities of it."

Jos B Hall & Co, Prospect Vale, Aroostook Co., Maine, April 24, 1854, say: We have forwarded you a certificate of a cure performed by the use of only one bottle of the German Bitters. We think Mr. Clark to be a man of veracity, and have no doubt of the truth of his story.

Messrs. Jos B Hall & Co—Gentlemen—In answer to your enquiries I will state that my daughter, aged about 16 years, has been complaining of a pain in her side for six or seven years, and about the first of January last was taken down and confined to her bed. The pain in her side was very severe, besides being troubled with pains between her shoulders and in her breast. From reading a pamphlet of mine performed by Hoofland's German Bitters, I was induced to try them in her case, and sent to your store and purchased one bottle. She had taken about a few days when she began to improve, and above, after taking only one bottle, she is enjoying better health than she has for years—she feels no pain in her side or in any part of her body, and attributes her cure entirely to the German Bitters.

WILLIAM CLARK

Salmon Brook, Aroostook Co., Me

You should bear in mind that these Bitters are entirely vegetable, thereby possessing advantages over most of the preparations recommended for similar diseases.

ARNOLD'S COMBINED

FOOT-STOVE, LANTERN,

—AND—

NURSE-LAMP.

ALBERT NOYES having purchased the exclusive right for manufacturing and vending in Penobscot county, this active valuable invention, is now prepared to offer them to the public

As a FOOT STOVE, it answers an excellent purpose, and can be sufficiently heated in less than one minute to warm and dry the feet in the coldest weather, and will be found to be an indispensable article in traveling. It is heated by an oil, alcohol, or fluid lamp the flame of which is protected from every external object.

As a LANTERN, it answers all the usual purposes, and is less likely to be worsted, or get broken, and can be used as a horse lamp with equal advantage.

As a NURSE LAMP, and in cases of sickness, it is of great advantage in keeping drinks or medicines warm. Beside giving the light desired, and for cooking in small quantities. For making tea, &c, it will be found very convenient, as a quart of water can be boiled in fifteen minutes, and a flat-iron heated the same length of time.

In fact, the various purposes to which this neat apparatus can be put, may be readily conjectured by every one. No further description is required, as no one can misunderstand its general utility. To say any thing more respecting its adaptability to a hundred purposes would just be telling what our readers will see at once for themselves.
